

Wednesday 12 June 2019

Our visit to Red House (William Morris)

We set off to Red House on a gloomy morning, coming prepared with waterproofs and brollies.

The design in print (Mirror image)

A woodblock showing one of Morris's famous wallpaper designs.

& Down House (Darwin)

Darwin's house was a pleasure to walk round. Downstairs as it used to be and upstairs an exhibition. Unfortunately the famous gardens and the wormstone (never found it!) were too wet to be enjoyed properly.

Above Down House on 12 May. On the right as we had hoped to experience it.

