

Champs Hill visit – Monday 24 April 2023

A warm smile and a welcoming cuppa greeted more than 20 of us at Champs Hill today. Mary Bowerman gave a brief introduction outlining how the Bowerman Charitable Trust began almost 40 years ago, and its subsequent developments to include buildings, gardens, artwork, and music. We were free to explore the colourful exhibition, which was entitled "Made in Sussex - Sussex Painters and Paintings", and then ambled around the gardens that contained many beautiful sculptures dotted around the lawns and among the fine collection of heathers and shrubs.

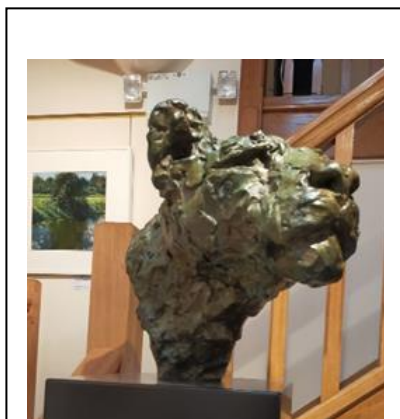

Just a flavour of the paintings and sculptures on view:

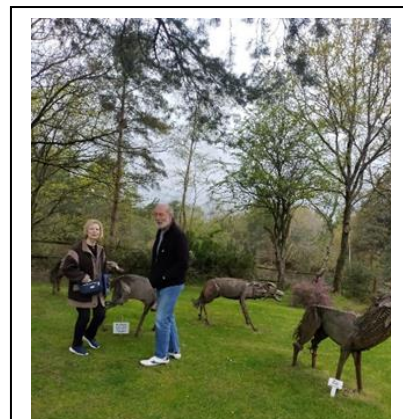

View of Brighton

Duncan Grant – The Barn at Charleston

Mark Coreth – Cheetah Bust

And --- rather damp gardens
